

Membership Benefits

Condominium Corporation Membership

Condominium directors have a substantial responsibility to govern and manage their corporation properly and effectively. They are called upon each day to make prudent and effective business decisions that affect the lives of all residents in their corporation. Directors need not feel they are alone. Through membership in CCI, the entire condominium benefits from education and information as well as the experience of hundreds of directors and professionals.

All owners of a member corporation are eligible to receive member discounts to Chapter events. They also have password-protected access to the “Members Only” section of the CCI-National website, which holds a legal case library, the “Rooftop” Forum, and valuable resources. The Corporation also will receive the CCI-National and New Brunswick Newsletters, which are accessible to all owners through your board.

Professional Membership

Professionals who are individuals practicing in the condominium field join the CCI to share information with others in the industry and to share their experiences with condominium owners. Professionals from the areas of condominium law, property management, accounting, engineering, real estate, and insurance become members of the organization working for and supporting the condominium industry.

A Professional Member is an individual who participates professionally in a field or endeavor related to condominiums.

A Professional Member of CCI has access to the knowledge and experience of other members, receives all materials published by CCI and becomes a candidate for professional accreditation (ACCI) with the Institute.

A professional member also has the opportunity to be a source of education and knowledge to members by acting as a speaker for seminars throughout the year.

Trade/Sponsor Supplier Membership

This classification is available to companies who are suppliers that service the condominium industry. This membership allows them to participate in educational programs and seminars, advertise in both the New Brunswick Newsletter, as well as CCI-National’s quarterly newsletter. Frequently, Trade members are called upon to lend their assistance and expertise to the ongoing well-being of all of the condominium clients in seminars and conferences. Employees of companies who are members will enjoy the member-rate at chapter events, and the company will receive a copy of the chapter and national newsletters to share amongst the employees.

Individual Membership

This classification is devoted to those individuals who live in a condominium and wish to become personally involved in CCI. This is for individuals who would like their own membership, even if their condominium corporation is already a member.
